Revised estimates requested for Ingoldsby bridge

The county roads committee is taking another look at the costs of the new bridge being suggested for the narrows at Ingoldsby. As well, the members of the Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council and the residents of the Ingoldsby area are being asked to consider the future of the existing structure. The matter was raised at the October 13 meeting of the municipal council when a letter from an Ingoldsby resident, Robert Minto, was read to the council.

Minto's letter said he was becoming increasingly concerned about the clearance the new structure will provide for boat traffic. He said he had measured the existing clearance and noted that if the new bridge is two feet lower, his boat will not be able to pass under.

"At first I was more or less unconcerned about this new bridge," Minto wrote. "Now I have some facts and they don't please me."

"I wonder if the county people responsible for this new bridge design to be Pergolas said the council and committee had heard from what he described as the "vocal minority". He said a petition has been presented in opposition to the bridge and the opponents had been "making great hay by writing to the newspapers and holding up the work."

Pergolas said the residents of the Ingoldsby area had not expressed their feelings on the matter. He said they should write or contact their members of the municipal council to voice their opinion on whether the bridge should be replaced.

The Deputy Reeve said there had been some resistance from other members of the county council to going ahead with the project particularly in light of the fact that recent estimates have indicated replacement of the structure could cost upwards to half a million dollars.

Councillor Dave Stevens questioned whether repairing the structure would provide a long-term solution to the problems at the bridge or whether it would be just a matter of "putting off the inevitable." Pergolas noted that once the consultants from the Ministry of Transportation and Communications had examined the bridge and the revised cost estimates had been received, they would be in a better position to determine the answer to that question.

Pergolas stressed that the council would like to be made aware of the feelings of those who live in the Ingoldsby area before making any decision. Councillor Pat Burk, a resident of the area, was absent.

The deputy reeve also informed the council that it had been estimated that an additional $40,000 would be needed to raise the proposed new bridge to the height of the present span.

The matter was left for the members of council to consider pending the receipt of the updated cost estimates and an expression of opinion from area residents.

Building will go into storage

The mini-fair pavillion located beside the Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal offices will be dismantled and placed in storage for the winter. The decision to store the building was taken at the October 13 meeting of the council.

The structure, one of three built by the municipality, had been placed in the parking lot adjacent to the playground, in the hope of attracting local crafts people to display and sell their wares. There was little interest in booth rental during the summer months. The two remaining buildings have been incorporated into other structures, the washrooms at the fairgrounds and the Lutterworth/Anson, Hindon and Minden Boundary information centre.

Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas had suggested at a previous meeting that the structure be removed as it was occupying needed parking space.

Councillor Gary Kenney, who had spear-headed the pavillion idea, told the meeting he had attempted to interest the Haliburton Farmer's Association in renting a portion of the building next year for their weekly market. He said the organization, while interested in continuing the market, did not wish to rent the structure.

Reeve Lyle McKnight, referring to an article which appeared in this newspaper two weeks ago and which indicated it might be relocated to the property the township had purchased on the Main Street (Welch building), noted he had received some favourable comments on the idea from residents. He suggested the building could serve as a shelter for bazaars, bake sales and other fund raising efforts, some of which are now held in vacant stores or on the front lawn of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce.

No decision was made on the future use of the building was taken other than to have it dismantled and placed in storage at the rear of the arena.

Equipment hiring policy questioned by contractor

The hiring of equipment for the construction work being carried out on Minden's Main Street will be left to the committee responsible for the project. That was the final assessment given by Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve Lyle McKnight after considering a number of comments brought to the October 13 meeting of council.

Local contractor Jim Garbutt appeared before the council seeking what he called clarification of the municipality's policies regarding equipment hiring. "I'm pretty well fed up," Garbutt stated as he addressed the council.

Pointing out that over the years he had contributed $7000 worth of backhoe time to the municipality, in the construction of the new curling club and installation of sewer line to that facility, Garbutt questioned why he hadn't been asked to take part in the sidewalk reconstruction work.

Garbutt said he felt there were "some underhanded things going on here." He noted that while one person is operating the backhoe in use, the payments for the machine are being made to another individual. Garbutt said he could do the job for $5 an hour less than what is being paid to the machine owner presently being used.

The contractor also questioned whether the machine in use is insured.

Garbutt said he didn't want to sound like a "complainner", but that he felt it was unfair that he hadn't been contacted at all to do the work. He suggested that hiring practices for such projects should be spelled out in advance and that all machine operators should be given an opportunity to bid on the work.

Garbutt's comments to council came just before the lunch break. Councillor Gary Kenney, who is on the committee overseeing the reconstruction work, said he would look into it and lower realize what they are doing," his letter inquired. "Once the new bridge is in place we will be stuck with it. We have no alternative but to stop its being constructed until we are assured it will be no longer than the existing bridge," his letter concluded.

Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas, who serves on the county's roads committee, told the meeting the proposed bridge would only be a foot and a half lower than the existing one. But he also noted that a certain degree of resistance is growing on the committee to the expenditure of such a large amount of money for the bridge. He said the committee has asked for revised cost estimates from a consulting firm. These new estimates will detail the costs of repair as well as replacement.

Earlier estimates had indicated a replacement cost of $300,000 with repairs estimated at $100,000.

Sentenced to eleven months

A sentence of 11 months in jail was handed down to a West Guilford youth in Provincial Court October 5. Randy Upton appeared before Judge George Inrig.

He had been charged with a series of incidents including theft, assault, causing a disturbance and breaking an undertaking to be of good behaviour. The assault charge, which according to police appeared to be racially motivated, drew a three month jail term while the other offenses drew 30 and 60 day terms. The incidents took place between August 6 and September 20.

Upton was also placed on probation for three years following the jail term. During the probation he is required to live with his parents, keep the peace, observe a curfew, refrain from the consumption of alcohol and seek employment or return to school.

Thefts

Police are investigating a break-in and series of thefts in the Horseshoe Lake area during the weekend. They believe that three individuals were involved.

The Wedgewood Marina was broken into and two motors and a quantity of tools were removed from the premises. Two newspaper boxes in the area were also broken into. The padlocks had been cut.

Constables Mike Legge and Boyd Jarvis are investigating the incidents.

Accidents

A two vehicle accident on Highway 35 October 13 resulted in both drivers being charged. George Stewart, 86, of Minden was attempting to cross the highway when his vehicle was struck in the right front by a car driven by Janice Skelding, 29, of Somerville Township. Total damage in the incident was $4,000. Stewart was charged with failing to yield the right of way, while Skelding faces a charge of failing to wear a seat belt.

The accident was investigated by Constable Barry Connelly.

A charge of careless driving has been laid against 17 year old Robert Milburn of Lochlin after he lost control of his car on County Road 17 and it struck a rock cut. The accident occurred Sunday afternoon. Damage was estimated at $1,000.

The investigating officer was Constable Bob Wood.

A visitor from Avon, England, lost control of his car he was driving on Highway 507 south of Gooderham and it slammed into a rock cut. James Moss, 25, lost control on loose gravel and skidded into the ditch, striking the rock. Damage to the rented car was estimated at $3500. The accident occurred Sunday afternoon.

Constable Brian Dunham investigated the mishap.

A driver and his passenger sustained minor injuries after being forced from Highway 35 in Sherborne

Loan approved for Staunworth

Municipal Affairs and Housing Minister Claude Bennett has announced a $18,575 provincial interest-free loan for the combined Townships of Stanhope, Lutterworth, and Anson, Hinton and Minden under Ontario's municipal non-profit housing program.

Incentive grants and interest-free loans are being made to municipalities developing non-profit rental housing for the first time, Bennett said.

In an effort to encourage more municipalities to become involved in municipal non-profit housing, municipalities are being allocated funds to cover costs incurred at the preliminary and development stages.

The combined Townships of Stanhope, Lutterworth, and Anson, Hinton and Minden has already received a $3,000 provincial grant. The majority of the $18,575 loan announced today will be used for technical consultants' contracts. The ministry loans are scheduled for repayment at the time of the first mortgage advance.

A 21-unit senior citizen rental building is being developed on Prentice Street in Minden. The development will contain 15 one-bedroom units and five two-bedroom units. An additional one-bedroom unit has been specifically designed to accommodate a handicapped tenant.

Under the ministry's municipal non-profit housing program, a federal rent reduction grant from Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation reduces the effective interest rate on loans from private lending institutions to two percent. When required, the province offers an additional rent reduction grant of up to 100 per cent of the federal assistance.

These rent reduction grants are used to maintain overall rents at market levels and to subsidize rent-gear-to-income units. If additional funds were required, they would be shared on a 50:50 ratio between the federal and provincial governments.

Up to 50 per cent of the occupants in senior citizens buildings pay rent based generally on incomes. The remainder of the tenants pay market rents.

After lunch Kenney admitted that Garbutt's services had never been requested for the project. He noted that the backhoe requirements for the job are for short periods of time on an erratic basis. He noted that Garbutt's other responsibilities through the week, he also operates a regular garbage pick-up service, meant that his backhoe would not always be available when required.

Kenney said three backhoes had been hired at various times for the project work and in some cases the rental of the equipment was shared with another construction project underway on the Main Street, thereby ensuring a full day's work for the machine and that it would be readily at hand when not employed on one or the other jobsite.

According to Kenney the rental rate for the machine is $30 per hour. He said the machine the municipality has employed the most is owned by Mervin Cowan, not the operator Bill Austin. "I don't see how the ownership enters into the question," Kenney commented. "We really just want to know if the machine and operator can do the work and respond on short notice to our requests." Kenney added that the work being carried out is covered by the municipality's insurance policies.

Kenney said that Garbutt was never asked to bid on the work because of the short notice requirements of the job.

Reeve McKnight seemed to be satisfied with the explanations offered by the councillor. He said the matter should be left with the committee overseeing the work and if there was an opportunity to use the equipment available through Jim Garbutt that he be contacted.

Concert series a success

A capacity audience was on hand as the Guild of Fine Arts opened their concert season on Monday evening.

Felix and his Banjo Palace Band put on an old fashioned up-tempo show that had the audience captivated from the first number.

Mixing music and humour, the quartet featured songs from the turn of the century to the present in a number of musical styles. Members of the audience, both young and old joined in as the group mixed old sentimental favourites with a spoof on rock and roll.

A reception was held after the concert where the audience was able to meet the performers.

Council briefs

Items from the October 13 meeting of the Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council.

A request to move the snowmobile drag races, planned for this winter off the concession allowance and into the adjacent fair ground was taken under consideration by the council. George Alsop, the owner of the property on the north side of the fairgrounds made the request.

He told the meeting that by icing the road allowance, which leads to the ball diamond, he would have a problem reaching the rear portion of his property. He also expressed concern for the damage to the fence which separates his property from the roadway. Alsop noted that when the car racers were using the strip several vehicles slammed into the fence, damaging it. Repairs were subsequently made by the racers.

Councillor Gary Kenney suggested that the snowmobile drag races would only result in the road allowance being closed for several days during the winter months and Alsop would be free to use it at all other times. He also noted that organizers of events which result in damage to his fence should be responsible for repairing it.

The council let the matter for future consideration.

Arcade licence

Approval has been given to Mae's County Mart to increase the number of coin operated machines in the arcade from 10 to 15.

Municipal by-law enfor-ment officer Dick Schell told the meeting that since the store no longer serves as the depot for Travelways buses, there was room to install the extra machines. He also pointed out that the location was the only arcade in the community, the other in the Minden Country Mall having closed at the end of the summer.

Schell said he had not experienced any problems as a result of the arcade. "They run a 'tight ship'," he commented. "There is always someone over the age of 18 in attendance."

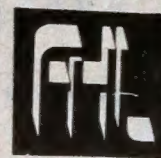

Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas noted that licence fees for arcades was likely to increase next year. At the moment operators pay $5 per machine per year.

Flood plain meetings

A request to hold a public meeting into the impact of the provincial flood plain restrictions is being made by the council to the Ministry of Natural Resources.

The request is the result of a notification the council received Thursday indicating the ministry would be holding similar meetings in Bracebridge and Lindsay this week. The councillors noted that Minden and Lutterworth municipalities are currently being affected by the provincial regulations governing flood plain restrictions. They expressed surprise that an information session was not being scheduled for this area.

The municipal clerk was instructed to contact the ministry to determine if such a meeting could be arranged.

A longer term needed

A suggestion by Victoria - Haliburton MPP John Eakins several weeks ago that the term of county wardens should be extended beyond a year is one worth considering. The provincial representative chose the warden's banquet, honouring the term of Bill Howe of Cardiff, to make the suggestion.

As Eakins pointed out, one year is hardly long enough for a warden to make a meaningful impact on the administration of the county. This fact is borne out by a number of recent county actions. The elevation of Haliburton to full county status spanned three wardens' terms, starting with Murray Fearrey, Ron Gambell and finally Bill Howe. The process of bringing this important change to fruition could have easily been delayed or side-tracked altogether if all three wardens had not been eager supporters of the idea.

While decisions taken at the county level may seem remote to many residents, these actions often will have far - ranging impact on the future prosperity of the area. These actions often require long term planning carried out by an individual willing and able to see it through to conclusion.

The present system of a one year term of municipal elected officials from two to three years was the growing need for long term planning. Surely if that logic can be applied at the municipal level, it should also be extended to the county level.

The one year term for warden has its roots in history when the position represented more of a local honour bestowed on a deserving recipient than an important co-ordinating and planning post.

Times have changed. It is time for the province to take a close look at how meaningful a contribution anyone can make as warden for only one year.

Sharing the budget secrets

by John Eakins, M.P.P.

The Legislature has, of course, reconvened for the fall session, and the Provincial Treasurer has announced that the government will open up the budget preparation process to allow opposition parties and members of the public to contribute to discussions. I believe the veil of secrecy surrounding the development of budgets should be lifted. The new era of consultation will begin almost immediately, with the union workers who will be affected by the government's new wage control plan.

You will recall that in June of 1982, David Peterson called for a review of the budget process, describing the current practice, surrounded by secrecy, as being "grossly inadequate on any reasonable standard of democratic process". At that time he set out five proposals which would make the budgetary process conform to the realities of today.

Tougher driving laws

The Attorney-General says he's not opposed to the concept of mandatory jail sentences for first-time offenders against impaired driving laws. Reviewing his plans before the Legislature's Justice Committee, he warned that the idea of mandatory sentences for first offences has to be approached with a "good deal of caution" before it can be implemented. He stated that provincial and federal officials are closely monitoring the effectiveness of a California law which imposes compulsory jail terms in similar situations.

Home care agencies

Senior citizens living in their own homes will probably benefit greatly from a $1 million financing program announced by the Minister of Community and Social Services.

This money is intended to keep in operation some of the more than 290 social poverty line. Poverty lines of Statistics Canada vary for urban and rural areas and range between annual incomes of $7,052 for a single person living in the country and $27,102 for a family of seven living in a large city.

Youth unemployment

David Peterson has called upon the Ontario Government to revamp its job strategy to address chronic, structural unemployment among the province's youth. Reminding the Legislature that 183,000 young Ontarians are out of work and that economic projections indicate that relief is not in sight, he called upon the Treasurer to develop a new strategy to put more young people in jobs or skill-training programs.

He pointed out that while government job plans alleviate some problems, most of these operate only in the summer months, and chronic youth unemployment for the long winter months is developing in several areas of the province.

service agencies which help our senior citizens cope with living in their own homes rather than entering senior citizen facilities. For the most part, the funds will be allocated to Metro Toronto area organizations. Metro's Social Planning Council, in a recent report, estimated that 60,000 of Metro's 213,000 senior citizens (28 per cent) live below the federal government's

Federation of Ontario Naturalists

The Atlantic provinces have witnessed stormy debates for many years over the spraying of forests. Much of this history is chronicled in Budworm Battles, a book authored by lawyer Elizabeth May. But a decision in the Nova Scotia Supreme Court on September 15, added a whole new chapter to the story. It's not a happy one.

The judge ruled that the spraying of the controversial phenoxy herbicides 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T could proceed on a number of forest sites "in safety and without risk to the health of the citizens of this province". He also ordered the 15 local landowners, who have fought the spray plans of Nova Scotia Forest Industries for more than a year, to pay the company's legal costs and possibly other damages totalling $500,000.

Widely known as the insidious "agent orange" which was used to defoliate the jungles of Vietnam, the powerful chemicals are increasingly popular weapons in the forester's campaign against "weed trees", such as poplar and other hardwoods, which impede the growth of more commercially valuable softwoods. Unfortunately, 2,4,5-T harbors tiny amounts of what has been described as the most toxic substance we have yet produced—TCDD or dioxin. Experts have linked the sprays with increased birth defects and miscarriages in Oregon, as well as the health problems of many Vietnam veterans. So the landowners in Cape Breton were not happy at the spray program planned for forest plots within 50 meters of their private dwellings, their water supplies and pasturelands. Legal action was the only avenue when political appeals failed to slow the timetable.

No one claims dioxin to be innocuous. But the judge was convinced that there is a threshold below which its hazards disappear. To the landowners, and 60% of those surveyed in a recent Nova Scotia Gallup Poll, any quantity is dangerous. Similar fears have resulted in bans on 2,4,5-T in other jurisdictions, including Ontario.

Whatever the final outcome, Justice Nunn has not succeeded in silencing public debate. With the mounting use of chemicals in forestry, along with public concern over chemical hazards of all kinds, the judgement will actually spur debate in the political arena.

Conservationists across the country have criticized the decision to make the landowners forfeit their life savings for waging a legal battle on an issue of public interest with no chance of financial gain. They have called as well for legal reforms to shift the burden of proof from the victim to the polluter. And Federal Environment Minister Charles Caccia backs them up, saying chemicals should be guilty until proven innocent. A battle may have been lost, but the war has just begun.

Re-negotiating loans

by Bill Scott, M.P.

On April 25th, I took the opportunity to ask the Government to consider providing trust companies and banks with an incentive to allow them to permit penalty - free buy downs of high interest long term loans to current rates. The Minister's response was that he would not consider doing so. As I was not content to leave it there, I informed the Speaker of the House that I was not satisfied with that response and wanted to bring it up again in an adjournment debate.

On April 26th, I took the time allotted me in the adjournment debate to again bring this to the attention of the Minister of Finance. The Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister, in his response, told the House that the Minister would consider the specific details of any case submitted to him.

I sent him several cases for his consideration. The Minister wrote each individual giving them the name of the Chief Lending Officer at the institution they were dealing with. He also, I believe, wrote letters on A moose named Mendelssohn ...

Basic Bear and Mendelssohn Moose may not be as famous as Kermit and Miss Piggy but that doesn't mean they are lacking when it comes to character, charm and appeal.

Mendelssohn and his friends are just a few of the creations of Senitt Dolls and Puppets Limited, a company that recently moved to this area.

Cathy Senitt began making the dolls for her children. A number of visitors to her home who saw the unique toys requested copies for themselves. As the reputation of her work spread Cathy was unable to keep up with the demand, so six years ago she formed a small company with a number of her friends.

The first home of the company was an old rural school house near Fergus, Ontario.

The puppets were displayed and sold mainly through fairs and craft shows. The stuffed animals were very popular at the craft fair in Ottawa. The accessibility and friendliness of the puppetmakers attracted a large number of people many of whom were from the foreign embassies in the capital city. As a result the puppets have found homes all over the world.

After the company was firmly established and its sales increasing it was decided to move the operation.

Several of the young puppetmakers had spent summers at a cottage on Canning Lake and had fallen in love with the Highlands. Since the company did not have to be situated near a large urban area, the group decided to move to a farm nestled in the hills near Carnarvon.

Besides Cathy Senitt, who designs all the firm's handicrafts, Kari Siirala, Frances Renshaw and Hansu Siirala complete the machine sewing and stuffing then hand sew the final details.

In addition to Mendelssohn and Basic, who are stuffed dolls made of synthetic fur that double as a hand puppet, the company manufactures "moose boots", "doggie bags" (a hand bag in the shape of a puppet), a "trophy moose" complete with a wall plaque and Grandpa Wrinkles who stands nearly six feet tall.

All of these whimsical creations have proven to be so popular with people of all ages that besides the sales through craft fairs, the company has a thriving mail order business particularly in the United States.

Since Christmas sales make up a large part of their business the group will be especially busy for the next few months with over 42 days of craft fairs between now and December 23.

Although the company does not have a retail outlet in this area they hope to be offering their handicrafts through stores in Minden and Haliburton by next year.

Perhaps "handicrafts" is not the right word to use in describing the puppets. Since they are not just inanimate stuffed toys but hand puppets as well they acquire a personality and a life of their own. They quickly become a friend and not just a possession to those lucky enough to buy one.

Help sought for electrical installation

Residents along the Queen's Line will likely receive assistance from the municipality in bringing electricity to their homes. A delegation from the Queen's Line Residents Association, headed by president Bruce Conboy and vice president Wilfred Ackerblade, attended the October 13 meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council.

The representatives reported they had discussed the extension of electrical service to their area with Ontario Hydro. They were given a number of cost estimates, including one less the cost of brushing the 11 km distance for the new poles. According to Hydro, brushing this distance would cost more than $19,000.

The association spokesman suggested the municipality could assist in this aspect of the project by applying for a winter works grant.

Conboy said the group, representing 22 residents, has yet to reach all property owners along the road, which runs from the Bobcaygeon Road to Highway 118 west of Carnarvon. He said once approval was received from all property owners, some of whom live outside Canada, the group is prepared to advise Hydro to proceed. The utility has told the group they could begin construction in the spring of 1984, if enough residents indicated they wanted the service.

Members of council indicated they would be willing to assist the representatives, either through a special grant request or in employing Katimavik participants to carry out the work. It was suggested, however, that property owners could also be of assistance by removing the larger trees next to the road.

The association spokesman noted the municipality would benefit by the brushing, in that maintenance to the road would be reduced, especially in the spring when the trees now shade the road and slow the drying process.

It was also hoped that the exact location of the roadway could be established when the power lines are installed. While the municipality owns the road it has been maintaining, it does not have a deed to the road.

Membership denied by board

A request by the Recreation Rehabilitation Society of Ontario for membership in the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce has not been accepted. The decision was taken at the Chamber's board of directors' meeting two weeks ago.

President of the Chamber Rhonda Elstone, said the application had been rejected because the organization was not in operation in the Highlands at this time. She said that once the association opens its camp here, their application will be considered.

The organization announced last year it intended to open a camp for the handicapped at the former Hunter's Horn property on the south shore of Lake Kashagawigamog. According to a spokesman for the organization, plans were in the works to provide facilities and a program for individuals with various handicaps.

Questions were raised about the organization in an article appearing in the Toronto Star. It questioned the fund raising methods of the organization and the need for such a facility. Two potential users of the camp, the Easter Seal Society and the Ontario March of Dimes, both indicated they had adequate facilities for clients served by their groups.

6 lakes set record

Six lakes on the Gull River watershed registered record high levels during the month of May according to statistics compiled by the Trent - Severn Waterway authority. The details of the water levels are contained in a report prepared by the federal agency.

According to the statistics, Red Pine, Percy, Haliburton, Eagle, Twelve Mile and Horseshoe lakes all exceeded the previous high water mark established since the levels have been monitored. Several other lakes in the system set 20 year maximum records, but did not surpass the all time record.

The flooding and high water levels of this year's spring are reflected in the statistics prepared by the authority. The following details were provided by the Trent - Severn Waterway:

Did you know?

by Ruth Foster

Did you know—that Ontario Hydro has a Residential Energy Advisory Program (REAP) currently running?

A representative from Hydro comes to your home to conduct an energy survey. The representative from Ontario Hydro looks at problem area such as insulation, windows, heating systems and major appliances. This service is free of charge and when the check has been made the representative then sits down with you and makes recommendations on how to better your homes energy efficiency. The recommendations would include such things as; adjustments to the temperature of your hot water tank, improving the insulation, or a more efficient heating system.

They will also advise you of any monies that may be obtained through Federal Grants. Ontario Hydro could also offer you a loan up to $2,000.00 for any renovations that are made from their recommendations. This loan payment would be added to your monthly bill and is awarded on the basis of past payment records.

If you are interested in taking advantage of the REAP program contact Mr. Jeff Hughes at Ontario Hydro, Minden 286-2031.

One other thing I would like to point out is that residents of Anson, Hindon and Minden, Dysart et al and Monmouth townships are still eligible for the Residential Rehabilitation Assistance Program (RRAP). RRAP is designed to assist homeowners make necessary renovations, to extend the life of older homes.

For further information on the RRAP Program call us at 457-2733 or drop-in to the County Information Centre, located at the Drag River Municipal Building in Haliburton. Our office is their behalf asking for consideration. I do not know of any case in which this resulted in a renegotiation of the interest rate of the loan or mortgage.

On October 11th, quoting from the offer extended last spring, Nelson Riis, M.P. (Kamloops - Shuswap) asked why the Minister had made the offer if he did not intend to do more than just write letters to the institutions. His response was "Madam Speaker, I said that I was re-examining the situation in the light of the fact that a number of institutions do not seem willing to co-operate. I am discussing the matter with my colleague, the Minister of Consumer and Corporate Affairs, and we are trying to find out whether there are any specific measures that should be taken in this respect."

At last, after several months of questions in the House and my corresponding with him on specific cases, the Minister has acknowledged that the problem exists. That is at least a first step in finding a solution. Up until now he has refused to admit that enough Canadians were in this position to warrant Government action.

Deer tags allocated

Ontario deer hunters who were successful in the 1983 antlerless deer tag draw have received their validation tags for this year's hunting season. Natural Resources Minister Alan Pope announced recently. Mr. Pope said 18,820 validation tags were mailed to hunters across the province on August 31.

The validation tags are issued each year by the ministry to control the number of antlerless deer - females and fawns - taken during the season. The ministry allocates the tags on the basis of a random draw which was held this year on August 26.

"Ontario's deer herd has been increasing in most areas of the province due to our selective harvest system and the recent mild winter," Mr. Pope said. "In many wildlife management units, especially in north central and northwestern Ontario, all those who applied were granted tags. Provincially, a hunter's chance of receiving a tag in 1983 was better than one in three."

In 1983, 48,529 hunters entered the draw, 43 percent more than last year's total of 33,974. More than 37,000 of the hunters who applied this year specified a second choice of provincial Wildlife Management Unit. There were 420 applications which were either illegible or incomplete, and which could not be put into the draw.

In the Wildlife Management Units in the Minden area the following results were realized in the deer tag draw.

In WMU number 54, which includes the townships of Eyre, Guilford, Harburn, Havelock, Sherbourne and Stanhope 1,077 selected the area as their first choice while 776 noted it as their second choice. There were only 89 antlerless tags available for this area and all were issued. A ratio of 1:12 hunters who applied received the antlerless deer permit.

In WMU number 56, which includes the townships of Anson, Dalton, Digby, Dudley, Dysart, Glamorgan, Hindon, Longford, Lutterworth, Minden and Snowdon, 1,297 hunters indicated this would be their first choice while 913 said it was their second choice. The number of antlerless tags allocated to the area was 216 and they were all issued. The ratio of requests to tags was 1:6.

Additional information on the allocation of deer hunting licences can be obtained from the Minden officer of the Ministry of Natural Resources.

Trent - Severn closes lake at 35.3%

The Trent-Severn Waterway reservoir lakes declined 3.1% over the past week, having 35.3% of their storage remaining on October 3, 1983.

The spring and summer of 1983 are an indicator of the Trent-Severn Waterways success in trying to keep things "normal" despite widely varying weather conditions. In May, when 187.2 mm or 225% of the normal amount of rain fell on the reservoir area, some flooding occurred, but the average amount of storage was 107%, only 10% higher than the normal 97%. During June, July and August only about 55% of the normal amount of precipitation fell, yet the reservoir levels ended the season only 15% lower than normal.

The summer of 1983 will be remembered as one of almost perfect summer weather - and also one of water problems for many people. The Trent-Severn Waterway must constantly balance the demand for water from the reservoirs with the realization that the cottagers, residents and businesses on those reservoirs would also like to use the same water. The people using the reservoirs, while enjoying the fine weather, endured the problems caused by much lower than average water levels. Many towns and villages, especially those along the Trent River, from Hastings to Trenton have suffered with water having a definite "swampy" taste and odour, caused by the low flows and hot weather producing higher than normal amounts of algae.

One group who should benefit from the low water levels are fishermen who go after lake trout, which spawn in the fall, often on very shallow gravel bars. In past years, the Trent-Severn Waterway lowered the reservoirs having lake trout populations to winter level by October 1st, to prevent trout spawn being left high and dry by receding water levels. In recent years, due to the increased use of the lakes by cottagers up till Thanksgiving weekend, the lakes are kept as high as possible till about the middle of October, then any surplus water is run off as quickly as possible. Many times this draw off has coincided with the spawning period, and many eggs were lost. This year, because of the fact that many lakes are already near their winter levels, it is expected that little lake trout spawn will be lost.

This summer has also been a busy one on the canal system. Because of the wet weather in May, 5000 fewer vehicles moved through the locks and bridges. The rest of the summer was very busy, however, with 231,700 vehicles being locked through, an increase of 10,000 over 1982. The busiest locks were at Fenelon Falls and Rosedale which moved approximately 12,000 boats each this season.

Navigation through the locks ended on Wednesday, October 12, then a busy season of maintenance and reconstruction will begin. This is our last newsletter of 1983, but the Trent-Severn Waterway wishes everyone a safe and happy fall and winter.

Snowmobiles will need one permit

The Ontario Ministry of Transportation and Communications announced recently new, one-time snowmobile validation decals are now on sale. The effective date for the new decals was October 1.

Under the new system, snowmobile owners will pay a one-time permit fee of $25.00 and that fee will be valid for the lifetime of the machine.

On payment, the ministry will provide validation tags which are to be placed on the vehicle as follows: - for presently registered vehicles, the two validation tags are to be placed on either side of the cowling in the same location as previous tags.

- For new vehicles registered after October 1, MTC will issue two identical decals (approximately motorcycle plate-size) to be placed on either side of the cowling. The validation tags are to be placed in the upper right-hand corner of the decal, as on a regular licence plate.

Snowmobile owners may validate their vehicles at any ministry or local motor vehicle licensing office.

The new system will eliminate an annual fee and result in a more accurate up-to-date vehicle registration file.

Huskies lose 1 - tie 1

The Haliburton Huskies played in a couple of close games on the weekend, losing their first game on the road 7 - 5 and fighting back to tie the second game at 4 - 4.

The Huskies took on Oro's Junior "C" team on Friday night. Goalie Colin Newell blanked the home team in the first period stopping 13 shots then Scott Rae put the Huskies ahead at the 19 minute mark.

Haliburton made it 2 - 0 at 1:11 of the second period on a goal by Jeff Smith. Oro then tied up the game with two quick goals.

Barry Boice popped in a goal two minutes later but Oro went ahead scoring a pair of goals in four minutes. The see-saw battle continued as Dave Nicholls and Barry Boice put the Huskies ahead 5 - 4 at the end of the second period.

The rest of the game belonged to Oro as they outshot and outscored the Huskies. A pair of goals 12 seconds apart and one more at the half way mark of the third period made it 7 - 5 for Oro at the end of the game.

Come from behind

There was no shortage of excitement in Saturday night's game at the Dysart

Arena when the Huskies came from behind to tie up the game against the Midland Centennials.

The Huskies found themselves behind 3 - 0 midway through the first period. After killing a penalty while short two men, the home team took the action to the Midland end.

Huskies goalie Colin Newell kicks out another shot during second period action. The home team came back from a three goal deficit to tie the game at four-all.

After a lot of pressure on the Centennial's goalie Jeff Stamp tallied to put the Huskies back in the game.

Scott Rae wasted no time in the second period, blasting in a goal at 2:21 after a long rush down the right wing.

The Midland team rebounded scoring one goal and coming close on a number of shots but they couldn't beat Colin Newell who played another strong game in net. Then the Huskies offence took over. Scott Rae skated around the opposition, then passed to Barry Boice who scored from point blank range.

Scott Arbuthnot then tied up the game after an excellent passing play to end the second period.

The wide open style of hockey continued in the third period but neither team could score and the game ended in a 4 all tie. For the second night in a row the Huskies avoided costly penalties and stuck to a disciplined but exciting brand of hockey.

The Huskies play their next game in Parry Sound on Friday night then return home for a game against Essa on Saturday night at 8 p.m.

Playoffs end season

The Minden Lawn Bowling Club completed its fourth successful season on Friday October 14 with final playoffs and banquet. 78 members were on hand to congratulate the top teams.

Helen Howe skipped her team of Bruce Armstrong, Mary McCutcheon and Daisy Bates to victory over Holly Cooper's team of Cec Riches, Gerry Feltham and Pat Clark.

Third place team was skipped by Simone Palmer, and included Nancy Moore, Helen Stott and Batty Hardman.

The winners were presented with replica cups which will be engraved as will the President's Trophy with their names.

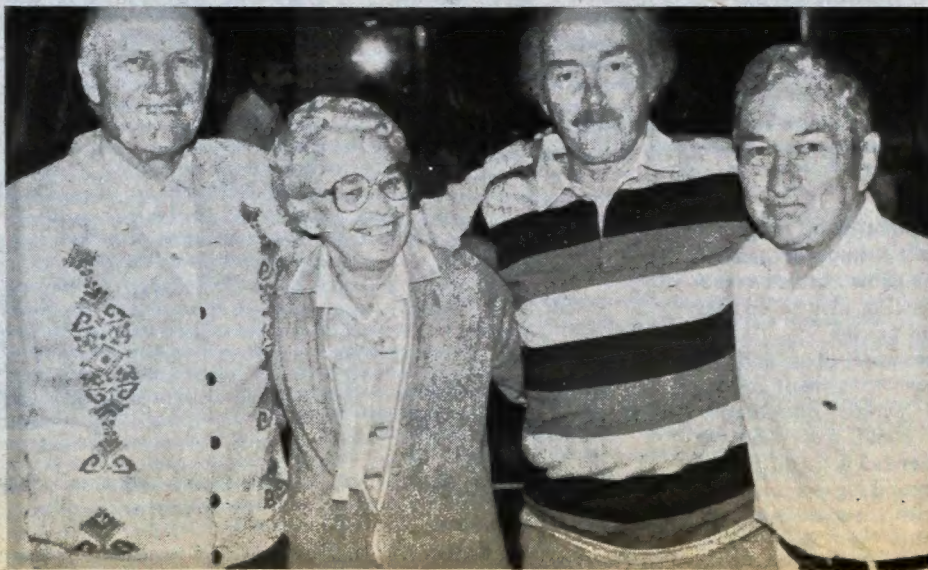

We have added a new recreation area, complete with music, to our Club, with a grant from New Horizons and now have shuffleboard, table tennis, darts, as well as our card table area, so we are able to please all our members.

At the conclusion of the evening, President Jim Burton wished all a good and healthy winter and reminded everyone that we start bowling again in early May and each member will be notified as to the date.

Alberta Maitland.

The championship team included skip Helen Howe, vice Bruce Armstrong, second Mary McCutcheon and lead Daisy Bates.

The second place finisher was the team skipped by Cec Riches, vice Pat Clarke, second Louise Carson and lead Jim Burton.

Redmen: win and lose

It was a case of some you win and some you lose as the HHSS Redmen took on LCVI in Lindsay on Friday afternoon.

The senior Redmen were defeated 34 - 0 by the first place Lindsay team. While the opposition was able to dress 40 players the Redmen were only able to field 21 men and injuries during the game further contributed to the loss. Haliburton had a good third quarter but were unable to score against a stronger, healthier team.

Although coach Gary Brohman was disappointed with the loss he commented that the team never gave up and that "all the coaching staff were very proud of them."

The senior Redmen finish the regular season in third place in the Kawartha West league and play semi-final game against Brock this Friday in Cannington.

It was a different story in the second game as the junior Redmen rang up their third shutout in four games.

In the first quarter Peter Allore recovered a Lindsay fumble and four plays later quarterback Trevor Powers scored from 15 yards out.

Before the half the Redmen ended a 70 yard march with a ten yard touchdown run by Mike MacNaull. The conversion by Glen Hall was good.

Early in the third quarter the Redmen scored again on a broken play when Paul Allore took a pass from Trevor Powers and ran 40 yards for a touchdown. The convert attempt failed but a wide field goal was good for a single point.

In the final quarter good blocking helped Paul Allore score his second touchdown on a reverse play. Mike MacNaull then added his second TD on a screen pass from 12 yards out.

The final score - Redmen - 34, LCVI - 0.

MacNaull, Mike Blake, Rob Misslin and Jeff Hancock all played a strong two way game for the junior Redmen who finished the season in first place.

The junior team play in a semi final game against I.E. Weldon in Haliburton at 2 p.m. Friday, October 20.

Retirees honoured

Representing over 365 years of service with Ontario Hydro, these ten men and one who was absent, were honoured at a group retirement banquet Saturday night at the Haliburton Legion. Family, friends and fellow workers crowded the hall to pay tribute to the retirees. Each received a plaque marking the occasion as well as a life membership in the Ontario Hydro Quarter Century Club. Those honoured included, from the left, front row, Harry Earle, Phil Graham, Claude Brown, Alex (Buzz) Godin and Sam Rogers. Back row, from the left, Ralph Young, Wes Sisson, Garnet Davis, Denzil Cox and Les Johnson.

Kinette Korner

At our second general meeting last Tuesday, we were pleased to have Zone C Kinette Co-ordinator Maureen Warner and Kinette Norma Stoffers from Cobourg as our special guests. Kinette Co-ordinator Maureen gave an enlightening talk, encouraging our Club, and informing us of the coming events of our zone and the district.

During our meal we gave lessons to Kinette Norma Amyotte titled, "Know Your Vegetable" and were fortunate that our Sergeant At Arms Kinette Jean Stevens didn't fine us too harshly.

Hats off to our Entertainment Chairpersons, Kinettes Linda Pentney and Dora Foster who held a rather unusual fashion show. Our three star models President Sue, Kin. Co-ordinator Maureen and Kinette Norma from Cobourg, with the help of their teams were given just a few moments to co-ordinate a fashion. By unanimous decision President Sue made the best presentation. Special thanks to our two guest judges Bea Magill and Stella Henderson who did a splendid job.

We are all looking forward to next month's meeting, a Potluck Supper. (Norma, don't forget to bring the broccoli.)

How can you demonstrate good judgement? Wise investors have immediately determined that "The Edgewater" warrants their attention! Creative landscaping that is always impeccably manicured denotes inescapable hard work. However, not at The Edgewater, the beauty is yours, not the work. The revolutionary architectural building design is the talk of the industry, as the interior streets add beauty and take away high maintenance costs. When your friends and visitors arrive, they will undoubtedly be impressed with the obvious luxury and innovative approach. From the carved front door of your residence to all the upgraded appointments (that are standard) throughout, the generous room sizes will more than accommodate your treasured furnishings.

The owner of an Edgewater condominium has obvious pride of ownership. Consider the convenience of freedom to travel, golf, holiday, or whatever you please, at less than what you pay for care on a typical home where you do the work yourself.

The swimming pool, whirl-pool, clubhouse, cable TV, and shoreline boardwalk are simply just a bonus to the ultimate in shoreline living. Just steps to all conveniences.

From The Claw of the Cat - story by Yvonne Guida -

The pink tongue of the cat Moved maliciously over its snowy white whiskers.
Do not trust me, the mind of the cat thought haughtily.
For beneath these soft and furry paws
Lie lethal and ferocious claws
That can scratch and maul
And in me lies a demon
Coiled to strike
When the time is right
So just beware - and have a care
For it might be you tonight!

Captain Frank Bolz that I wrote about last week is known as the Hostage Cop which the paper neglected to print. He has a book published which is entitled, naturally the Hostage Cop, and tells his life story with pictures taken at the scenes. I don't know the publisher (my books are still in cartons) but if you're interested, you could enquire at the Library. Mine has a lovely inscription from Frank.

Hopefully, by the time you read this I will be in my new abode and the telephone number is 286-1332.

I don't know if any of you have been up to the Main Street and used the right side, but I think it is a disgrace having to climb up a steep ramp with a bulldozer working beneath you, 3 inch spaces in the boards that you step on and nothing to hold on to. Couldn't they, for crying out loud, afford a piece of board for a hand-rail? I froze coming back down, until one kind gentleman assisted me and I heard this from several people. They'll wait till someone breaks a leg or their neck to do something. I don't like height except in a plane and unless there's something to hold on to I panic, and I know I am not alone.

Lutterworth Estates held their annual Fall dinner and dance last Wednesday night at the Wagonwheel, and though there were a few missing, on vacation and en route to the sunny south, the evening was a big success. After the cocktail hour, a delicious roast beef was served, followed by dancing. Bill O'Brien and Bill Jr. acted as DJ's and did a first rate job as always. Guests included Laurie Guyatt, Bob Macnab; new neighbours Mr. and Mrs. Vern Morrow and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Stephenson were in attendance. Prizes were awarded, and a great time was had by all.

I don't know how many of you have or have not read The Grapes of Wrath. If you have not or have, and have forgotten it, I recommend it to you. If ever there was a philosopher and prophet, it was John Steinbeck. His thinking, to me will stay with us always. It's too bad we don't heed writing such as his, but then poets and writers try to get a point across to their readers and instead of realizing that the author is not being objective how can you write without instilling yourself in your subject? People consider it fiction, read a story or a poem and after reading, thrust it aside forgetting the thought behind it. Speaking as a writer, a serious writer, I cannot be objective, if I see a wrong I try to right it if I can. They say the pen is mightier than the sword. Writers are sensitive individuals whose feelings go very deep. I guess some people consider us 'nuts', in a sense, but then like a lot of dedicated artists we experience feelings others seldom do! We're either blessed or cursed, whichever way you wish to look at it!

Next Saturday evening, October 22nd, I will be privileged to award scholarships at a dinner to be held at Haliburton High School, to some very talented and artistic young people. It will be an honour for me. The event begins at 6 p.m.

Coming up, the Annual Turkey Dinner, held at St. Paul's, on Saturday October 29th. There will be two sittings, one at 5 p.m. and one at 6 p.m. Tickets are $6.00 for adults and $3.00 for children. The ladies of St. Paul's always serve a delicious dinner. Everyone is welcome.

I was talking to a very dear friend of mine, Irwin Karnick on Saturday last. He is involved in a joint exhibition to be given at the gallery in Harbourfront, Toronto. Irwin's exhibit will be based on the background of Ennismore and it goes back over 100 years. Of course, you know his genius in photography. Sharing the limelight with him will be Badanna Zack, sculptress. The show opens November 29.

Glad to see that Jane Bibby is well once again and has returned to work.

Sunday visitors with Florence and Phil Robinson were Leona and Steve Negus and daughter Tracey of Lindsay.

Sunday was even busier than usual at Minden United Church last week when, during the morning service, the children of the Sunday School attended to take part in the annual Rally Sunday. The children were awarded various attendance certificates and prizes and one of the teachers, Mrs. Freda Hulbig was honoured for long service to the Sunday School. A small gift was presented to Mrs. Hulbig on behalf of the children and other teachers.

A picture of the late Dr. Agnes Jamieson was dedicated and will be hung in the Sunday School - Dr. Jamieson was a long time member of the Church and former Sunday School Superintendent and Board member. In the evening, the congregation joined together in a pot-luck supper to honour the Rev. Clyde Westhaver and his new bride. Introductions were made by Mr. Harold Morgan and Mrs. Grace Coburn presented a gift on behalf of the congregation to the happy couple. A very happy time was spent by those attending. May we add our congratulations also to the newlyweds and to the Sunday School teachers and children.

Winners at the mini-card party at the Parish Hall last Thursday afternoon were: for cribbage, Lil Porter and Ethel Leigh and for Euchre lone hands, Irene Houghton, Pearl Cowen and Dorothy Reaman.

We were very sorry to hear of the death of the son of Howard and Martha Bean of Donarvon Park, who passed away on Oct. 6, 1983. Gordon Bean was the oldest son of the couple and was vice-principal of Georges Vanier Secondary School in North York. He and his brother Douglas are members of Boshkung Lake Cottagers Association. Gordon loved the Haliburton and Muskoka regions. In earlier days he was a camper at Taylor Statten Camps in Algonquin Park. Later he and his brother were directors at Sherwood Forest Camp under the guidance of Cecil Irwin. Gordon and Joan Bean have five sons. Our sincere sympathy to the family at this time.

Hi kids!
Here is another puzzle for you. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. It's as easy as that. Have fun.

At the chapel service Sunday night, Rev. Burgess spoke on Jesus healing the ten lepers, which was just fine, only one returned to give thanks, where were the nine? Now that Thanksgiving day is over, we would like to say, we should give thanks for all our blessings every single day.

We have a cleaning lady, her name is Brenda T, she works, she cleans, she scrubs and she dusts, she's-as busy as a bee.

Our office staff is busy when our Super is away. We hope he is having a nice holiday. Cheryl Dillon takes the evening shift, keeps thing up to par, she also is sporting a brand new car.

It has been lovely on the hills around our town, we're afraid these heavy frosts will bring the leaves tumbling down.

Tuesday morning Rev. Wicks of Minden Gospel Church conducted service in the chapel which was real nice. He spoke on "Bearing one another's burdens, or cast your burdens on the Lord and so fulfill the law of Christ". Tuesday afternoon Doris took the Katimavik group for a second bus ride. I had a lady seated by my side, we watched the colours and I told her of many happenings away back, you know. She said how much they had enjoyed it here and were loath to go, no matter how lovely their stay had been, they must move on so another group could move in.

Tuesday night Daryl Crowe came all by himself left Payne & Deacon laid up on the shelf. He played and sang so nicely, entertained us grand we all thought he deserved a real good hand. Down at fun and fitness (to mention this we should) the throwing of the darts was won by Amelia Good. Ada Shorter's birthday was October the thirteenth day, but how many years she wouldn't say, also having a birthday was Jack Shaw, we don't know his age but we could ask his mother-in-law.

Thursday afternoon the ladies from Harcourt community chapel brought a tasty lunch and brought their children too. They also brought a gentleman along, a nice thing to do. After they had served the lunch with cold drinks or a cup of tea, the children sang and acted for us which was good to see. Thursday night the Bingo was conducted by Lyle McKnight and son, we thank them for coming and a job well done.

Each morning down in the gym, the girls give us exercises to keep us nice and trim. They sure know how to put us through our paces, to keep our pants up, we men instead to keep the ball rolling. They have added a harmonica player and he can really play, so on Friday night, once a month they will be coming our way.

"Dream & Dreamers"

For man is a dreamer ever he glimpses the hills afar and plans for the things out yonder where all his tomorrows are and back of the sound of the hammer and back of the hissing steam and back of the hand on the throttle is ever a daring dream.
